

nesses who could give facts as to Thaw's present mental condition, whether they were alienists or not.

"You know I can not do that," hotly retorted Jerome. "My alienists have not been allowed to examine this defendant. They have only observed him in court and listened to what the witnesses have testified to. They could not even observe him while he was under cross-examination. Now you tell me to produce witnesses who know his mental condition when I can not do it."

"Testimony as to what the alienists have seen or heard in court the commission will receive," answered Mr. McClure.

"That is all I ask," said Jerome, switching his tactics.

With this the session ended and it was announced the hearing will be resumed Tuesday morning.

CHICAGO SUFFERS FROM BRAINSTORM

Mayorality Campaign One of the Hottest in Many Years.

Rival Candidates Are Claiming Victory by Large Majorities.

Libel Suits Will Be Result of Virulent Mud-slinging.

CHICAGO, March 30.—There's a brain storm on in Chicago. Political meteorologists predict it will reach its height Tuesday night, and by Wednesday morning the people will be calm again. It is all on account of the mayorality election. The rival candidates, Postmaster Fred A. Busse, Republican, and Edward Dunne, present mayor and Democrat, have sunk unwillingly into the background, while an old-time war is being waged. The press have kept the public wondering for days.

The Tribune occupies a building owned by Hearst. The American and Examiner told the editors to pay higher rent or move off. The Tribune reproduced statements of Secretary Root made during the last gubernatorial campaign in New York. Hearst sued the Tribune for $2,500,000.

Mud Slinging Galore.

When Busse was twenty-three years old he had a fight. He says three men attacked him and he struck the leader with a brick. A week later the papers said: "Busse shot a friend three times with a .22-caliber revolver in a quarrel over some woman."

The Hearst papers dug up the musty item and added many comments. Then Busse said he asks $25,000 each from Hearst, Arthur Brisbane, and other editorial writers, and a number of cartoonists. He says he will give the judgments to charity.

All Claiming Victory.

The chairman of both committees claim certain victory, one saying Dunne will be 35,000, and the other asserting that Busse will move from the Federal building to the city hall with a 40,000 majority.

William A. Brooker, a Prohibition candidate, said tonight: "No one has any grounds upon which to predict that I will not win."

George Koop, Socialist candidate, says: "I will be elected if the workers get together."

And Chicago is to elect a mayor for the first four-year term at $13,000 per year. Heretofore the mayor has served two years at $10,000. Dunne thinks he has earned the raise.

The principal issue is the traction question.

COURIERS ROUSE ALL ROUMANIA TO RESIST

broken. It is this which so aroused the people.

Messages from a score of towns which were bombarded brought the same tale of how women and children had been killed, fighting side by side with their husbands, brothers, and sweethearts against the troops.

At Canegetti there was a virtual massacre. An outbreak there called the troops to the town. By the time they arrived the ringleaders had disappeared. Hundreds of peasants threw themselves on their knees as the soldiers fell into line, begging for their lives.

Unmoved by their prayers the commander made elaborate preparations to fire on the helpless creatures. Then the women, many of them with children tugging at their skirts, rushed to the front to shield the men. When the smoke from the volley cleared there were scores of women and children mingled with the dead. All who had escaped death or wounds rose and fled in a panic.

The peasants secured revenge for this foul act at Ghimpitza. When a squadron of Hussars arrived there the rioters met them with cheers. This deceived the commander, and he ordered the troops to dismount. When their arms had been stacked the peasants fell on the soldiers and massacred half of them.

Instances similar to these have been reported from scores of towns. They show the whole country is embroiled. A dozen towns have been wiped out by the bombardments, but this terrible punishment has only incited greater disorders. Members of a secret revolutionary society, composed chiefly of priests, are directing the revolutionary movement, and they are overlooking no opportunities to foment disturbances.

LAST DOLLAR NOTE OUT OF 47,600

OIL CITY, Pa., March 30.—Charles M. Newton, a Warren county grocer, came into possession of a dollar bill today that seemed like an echo of the recent disastrous slump in Wall Street. Across its back is written the following story: "The last of $47,600, mostly lost in Wall Street, in Union Pacific, Reading, St. Paul, Northern Pacific, and a few others."

The grocer will frame the bill as a souvenir.

Pinkerton Sleuths Follow the Ponies

Large Force of Experts Go Over the Eastern Tracks to Keep a Lookout for Alleged Crooks Who Are Wanted.

Col. William A. Pinkerton, head of the Pinkerton National Detective Agency, was in Washington last week seeing that everything was in proper working order at the Benning track. Forty of his men arrived here the day the races opened, and will follow the horses to all the big tracks until the Eastern racing season is brought to a close at Benning next fall.

The Jockey Club contract is the largest job the agency handles, and Colonel Pinkerton takes personal supervision of the work, visiting all the tracks several times each summer. Already the Pinkerton men have turned over several professional "touts" and alleged crooks to the Washington police.

Found Washington Man.

Colonel Pinkerton while in Washington told how he succeeded in finding Robert Castelberg, the former Washington jeweler, after he had been missing more than a year.

Castelberg, it will be remembered, was at one time in charge of the Washington store of the Castelberg National Jewelry Company. He had been a conspicuous figure at the Benning track, and after the spring meeting two years ago went to Saratoga. It was after the Saratoga meeting that he disappeared, and despite the fact that the police all over the United States, as well as those of many foreign countries were engaged in looking for him, it was more than a year before the slightest clue of his whereabouts was obtained.

Friend of Castelberg's.

Robert Castelberg's closest friend was Colonel Pinkerton. When the colonel was in Washington he stopped at the Castelberg home, and the two were together much. The veteran detective saw him at Saratoga a few days before he dropped out of sight. A week later he received a dispatch saying he had mysteriously disappeared.

"Bob had often talked with me about China and Japan," said Colonel Pinkerton yesterday, "and had given me reason to believe that he intended visiting both those countries. When I got the message saying he had disappeared the first thought that flashed through my mind was that he had gone to China. I ascertained that he was not in trouble of any kind, that no criminal charges had been preferred against him, and that, so far as was known, there was absolutely no motive for his strange actions.

Had Gone to Yokohama.

"I immediately sent telegrams and letters with a description and photograph of him to every American consul along the coast of China and Japan. I made it clear that Castelberg was one of my closest friends, and that my interest in the matter was purely personal.

"It was almost a year later before I got anything definite. Word came to my office that he had sailed for Japan on the Manchuria a few days before. The officers and men on the Manchuria are all known to me personally, and I wasted no time in going to San Francisco.

"The liner had just reached port. I showed a photograph to the captain, and he told me that Castelberg had sailed for Yokohama several months before. He had gone under the name of Eowles. All of the officers recognized the photograph, having become acquainted with him on the trip.

Went Later to Tientsin.

"With that information it was an easy matter to locate him, and the next day a cablegram arrived, saying he was working for a large jewelry firm in Yokohama. I wrote him a letter, but before it reached him he had gone to Tientsin to accept a better position."

Colonel Pinkerton called on Major Sylvester when in Washington, and went over several matters in connection with the National Bureau of Criminal Identification, the headquarters of which are in this city.

Colonel Pinkerton left for Chicago the latter part of the week. Although he made no reference to his business there, it is understood the trip is being made with a view of trying to clear up the mystery surrounding the disappearance of $172,000 from the treasury in that city.

SALARY TO RUEF $1,200 PER MONTH

Alleged He Received That Amount From Telephone Company.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 30.—Abraham Ruef has been on the secret payroll of the Pacific States Telephone Company for more than two years at a salary of $1,200 a month. He was paid through Theodore V. Halsey. There was no voucher and no entry upon the books. The grand jury discovered these facts today through the testimony of the millionaire directors of the telephone corporation.

The grand jury announced tonight that further indictments will result from the telephone investigation. The prosecution is prepared to carry on both the grand jury work and the court trial of Abraham Ruef this week. Francis J. Heney will conduct the proceedings before the grand jury, and District Attorney William H. Langdon and Hiram Johnson will conduct the case against Ruef.

The grand jury has discovered that it was Frank G. Drum, director of the Pacific States Telephone Company, who hired the rooms in the Mills building, in which Theodore V. Halsey bribed the supervisors.

The expert employed by the grand jury to go over Ruef's bank accounts in four banks has discovered that the indicted boss added to his fortune to the tune of more than $100,000 shortly after the Home Telephone bribes are said to have been paid.

Abram K. Detweiler is still unfound. It is known that he is in the United States, probably in Ohio. He has been conferring with his attorneys in Toledo.

board, one member of which would not know anything about railroading, would have the deciding vote.

Fear Influence on Board.

"Whoever would be chosen umpire would be taken from an environment that would influence him to decide against the men."

While maintaining their previous positions, both the general managers and employees' officials said that they were willing to meet jointly in the presence of Messrs. Knapp and Neill. This meeting may be held tomorrow or Monday. Nothing is expected to come from it.

CHARGED BY DETECTIVES WITH STEALING WATCH

Charged with the larceny of a watch and chain from Julius A. Seary, a conductor on the Ninth street line, William Norton, twenty-two years old, a plumber, living at 625 Newton street northwest, was arrested last night by Central Office Detectives Cornwell and Evans.

ALLEGED RIVER THIEVES CAUGHT BY POLICEMAN

Accused of being responsible for the numerous thefts that have occurred along the river front recently, six white men are under arrest at the Fourth precinct police station. They are Edward L. Matthews, Michael Mahoney, Charles Edwards, Henry Molter, George H. Bucker, and Edward Richards. The arrests were made by Policemen Cole and Cooper, of the Harbor precinct, who had been working on the case for some time. They will be given a hearing in the Police Court Monday.

SNYDER PROMOTED AT EXPOSITION

SILAS E. SNYDER, Newspaper Man Promoted to Important Post at the Jamestown Exposition.

Newspaper Man Made Chief of Exploitation at Jamestown.

Silas E. Snyder will take up the duties of chief of the department of exploitation of the Jamestown Exposition tomorrow in place of A. L. Sutton, resigned. Announcement to this effect has been made by Gov. Barton Myers as the decision of the board of governors. Mr. Snyder has been manager of the contests and validating bureau, in which work he has been very successful. He organized the newspaper contest bureau which has resulted in the inauguration of 899 circulation contests by newspapers in the United States and island possessions.

Mr. Snyder is a newspaper man of long experience and is highly esteemed by the officials of the exposition company.

GLOVER'S SUIT FOR MRS. EDDY

Not Against Her or Christian Science, Son Declares.

DEADWOOD, S. D., March 30.—George Glover, son of Mrs. Mary Baker Eddy, tonight gave out the following signed statement in regard to his suit now pending against his mother's cabinet.

"Never until the commencement of the present action did I contemplate any suit or proceedings of any kind in which my mother might be in any way concerned."

"When my daughter Mary and I visited her at Concord there was no quarrel, nor at any other time. This suit, as has been stated, is not brought against mother; it is brought for her and in her behalf, and in no way is it any reflection or attack upon her or any of her writings, or upon the Christian Science, or its members."

"Only once have I ever asked my mother for money, and on that occasion she gave it to me willingly, refusing to give it as a loan."

Glover's statement was brought forth by the statement of Attorney Williams. His charges are startling, and have caused a big sensation among the friends of Glover as well as members of the Christian Science faith.

Attorney Williams, among other things, speaks of a "desire to break down the growing power of the church and make it appear ridiculous in the eyes of the world" as a possible motive of the suit, and he also charges that Glover's wish for money to operate his big mines in that State, and his malice for law suits might have prompted the action.
